DETAILED ACTION

Acknowledgment

1. Acknowledgment is made that applicant's Amendment, filed on 22 September 2003, has been entered. Upon entrance of the Amendment, claims 1-5 were canceled and claims 6-14 were added. Claims 6-14 are now pending in the current application.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 6-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Shin (5872479). Regarding claim 6, Shin teaches a method of determining respective voltages across the different laser sections when operating the laser and holding the determined respective voltage across the different laser sections at constant levels when operating the laser so as to maintain a desired laser operation point, see col. 3, lines 30-63 and col. 4, line 12-col. 6, line 11. Shin fails to teach the laser is a tunable laser, instead Shin only teach a semiconductor laser which encompasses a tunable laser. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to employ the invention of Shin to a tunable laser in order to maintain constant voltage regardless of an unstable variation in power, see col. 3, lines 30-40. Also, it has been held that a recitation with respect to the manner in which a claimed apparatus is intended to be employed does not differentiate the claimed apparatus from a prior art apparatus satisfying the claimed structural limitations. Ex parte Masham, 2 USPQ 2d 1647 (1987).

Art Unit: 2828

Regarding claim 7, Shin teaches applying a set of predetermined constant voltages, see col. 6, lines 5-11.

Regarding claims 8-9, Shin teaches all the stated limitations, see col. 4, lines 12-40.

Regarding claims 10-14, the device is not germane to the issue of patentability of the method used by the device itself. Therefore, the rejection used against the method, stands for the device as well.

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 6-14 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

5. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
